

Support for businesses affected by flooding

A new website has been developed to help small businesses adapt and become more resilient to flooding.

How will it help?

- One-stop-shop for small businesses in flood risk areas;
 - Support to prepare resilience and continuity plans;
- Opportunity to share experiences with other affected businesses;
 - Signposting to useful resources;
- Real life stories and films by local businesses, providing hints and tips;
 - Advice from flood experts;
 - Interactive e-learning tool.

Access the website:

www.floodresilientbusiness.co.uk

The website is currently a pilot in Tewkesbury, before being rolled out nationally.

It has been developed by the Centre for Floods, Communities and Resilience, UWE Bristol and the Small Business Research Centre, Kingston University in partnership with Tewkesbury businesses and local, regional and national groups with business resilience interests.

Tell us what you think!

We really value your feedback. Please complete our survey:
Uwe.onlinesurveys.ac.uk/sesame-e-learning-tool-survey

Paper and pdf copies can be obtained by emailing cfcf@uwe.ac.uk or T: 0117 3283383

